CONSECRATION SUNDAY

2 CORINTHIANS 8:1–15
REV. ABBY LIETZ

We have been anticipating Consecration Sunday with excitement – it's finally here! Do we understand what it means to consecrate something, though? To consecrate, or to be consecrated, means something or someone has been declared sacred and set aside for holy, godly purposes or service. You have chosen to consecrate your prayers, presence, gifts, service and witness to God and the Church through PUMC! Thank you! This week in worship, we celebrate God's blessings and our shared walk with Jesus as God's people. We worship God together. And we each respond to the call of God to grow spiritually in our giving to the ministries of PUMC and the Kingdom of God.

WELCOME!
We are so glad you're here!

NOTES

IN PREPARATION FOR ALL SAINT'S SUNDAY IN NEWDAY PRAISE

Join us next Sunday, November 1 for All Saint's Sunday as we remember those who have lived, died, and risen with Christ in glory and who continue to serve as a witness of faithfulness. It will be a special morning to remember, grieve and reaffirm life—all who worship with us are invited to bring a small object or photograph, or even a favorite food or something representing a favorite of your deceased loved one—to place on our altar for the morning as a reminder of someone you have loved who has passed on to the larger life—it can be anyone, not only those who have passed from among our congregation. We look forward to holding each other in love as God holds all of us!
